

Rob's humour is brilliant, which is helpful to know when bringing a comedian to your platform. However, more than that – Rob helped partner with us to provide an excellent evening for the relatives, colleagues and friends of our church family. Helping us in the pre-event run up, in the details of atmosphere and room-set all the way through to the actual event. This hand-holding gave us great confidence that our guests were going to experience an excellent evening out... and they did.

Rob is professional, personable, engaging, near-the-edge but not over-the-edge, non-threatening and thankfully very funny!
